DETAILED ACTION

Restriction/Election Requirement

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method for identifying one or more proteins in an unannotated DNA sequence.

II. Claims 12-15, drawn to a method for identifying one or more proteins in an unannotated DNA sequence using distinct steps from those of group I above.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reason:

The inventions of the groups I-II are distinct and lack unity because they don't share the same special technical feature. The special technical feature of group I involves the following:

(a) dividing the DNA sequence into a plurality of sequence fragments each fragment being of substantially the same length and from about 300 to 5000 base pairs long;

(b) performing a six frame translation of each of the DNA sequence fragments to obtain six translated amino acid sequence fragments for each DNA sequence fragment;

(c) subjecting each of the translated sequence fragments to theoretical digestion to obtain a plurality of cleaved peptide sequences; and

(d) comparing experimental empirical data for peptide fragments from a protein digested in the same manner as the theoretical digestion at step (c) with the theoretical data generated in step (c) for each of the translated sequence fragments to identify one or more translated sequence fragments which include a significant number of peptides present in the digested protein.

The special technical feature of the method of group II, however, involves the following:

(a) performing a six frame translation of a DNA sequence to provide six translated amino acid sequences;

(b) dividing the six translated amino acid sequences into a plurality of fragments, each fragment comprising 100-1666 amino acids;

(c) subjecting each of the fragments to theoretical digestion to obtain a plurality of cleaved peptide sequences; and

(d) comparing experimental empirical data for peptide fragment for peptide fragments from a protein digested in the same manner as the theoretical digestion at step (c) with theoretical data generated in step (c) for each of the fragments to identify one or more fragments which include a significant number of peptides present in the empirically digested protein.

Thus, the technical features of groups I-II are not so linked under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
